TBWA Safety Awareness Training log on to www.tbwa.net.au

The TBWA Safety Awareness Training program is now up and running

Understand the dangers and be vigilant in the work place.

Please keep in mind that if an incident/injury was to occur on your property, you will most likely be asked by insurers or possibly an inspector from DOSHWA if you made the injured party aware of the dangers / hazards of being around horses or working with machinery or if they have been appropriately trained. Having had staff complete this program is just one step towards training your staff and inducting them on their duties at your property.

Free for TBWA financial members or $20 per user for non members

For more information contact Amanda Abraham on 9277 9880 or info@tbwa.net.au

By developing a safer environment on our properties, we may be able to make an industry approach to insurers to lower our current worker compensation premiums.

Please go to our website, www.tbwa.net.au log on, and give it a try now.

Safety is everyone's business.

Please note this program is not a registered training course, it was designed to ensure everyone involved in our industry is aware of the dangers of working with horses and on stud farms. We are trying to ensure that our families, staff and visitors to our farms or staff working at sales are at least aware of the dangers. We have worked on the very simple premise that if we can prevent one serious injury, then our time, effort and the associations funds have been well spent.

President's Report

■ Welcome Breeders and Racing Industry participants to the 2013 Stallion Edition of the Thoroughbred Breeders WA - Sunspeed Magazine.

WA deserves its own stallion book and we thank our members for their support of this magazine. As the depth and quality of the WA thoroughbred continues to improve this annual magazine will prove an invaluable tool in selecting your matings.

That's my segue to mentioning our WA Breeders seminar on the 12th July at 12.30 in the PR.Com room at Ascot racecourse.

Our Perth yearling sale hasn't grown in real dollar terms for the last 7 years. An economist will more than likely tell you that "what doesn't grow will eventually die". It's my view that our industry is at the cross roads. We can rely on excuses like, we have suffered due to the GFC, we don't have a suitable sales venue or the down turn in the resource sector will knock us around. Or we can take a hard look at our product and work together to produce thoroughbreds that our local buying bench wants and can attract both interstate and overseas buyers.

WA buyers have spent an average of $7.3m per annum on yearlings from interstate and NZ sales over the last 5 years. That's over $36m. The bottom line is that we need more of these dollars to be spent on our local product. The question is, how can we achieve this? Breeding profitably is extremely tough, but the key ingredient has to be quality, therefore as a starting point I recommend:

That breeder's work together to bring in new well performed and bred stallions. Multiple successful stallions standing in WA is critical to the success of our industry. It can't be left to 2 or 3 breeders to carry the load for us.

We need to continually upgrade the quality of the broodmares being bred to in WA. The average cost of producing a Premier Select Sale yearling is between $35,000 and $45,000. Therefore, we have to be breeding from black type and winning families with the expectation of selling the produce for over $50,000 to breed profitably. Many of us will need help to upgrade our broodmare band. We need to look at every option, including support from the sales companies and perhaps even obtaining finance to upgrade.

We need to establish common objectives and work together, similar to how NZ and the Hunter Valley work together to market their product. Develop a market niche that attracts buyers to our product.

TBWA have developed a costing spreadsheet which calculates the cost of a yearling from inception through to fall of hammer. Please contact Amanda via info@tbwa.net.au and she will happily send you a copy of this spreadsheet.

Please take the time to attend our seminar, listen to our interstate and local presenters and help position our industry for growth and profitability over the coming years. Only with everyone working together can we develop a position of strength in the national market.

Our TBWA online OH&S awareness program (which can be used by all industry participants) has been live for several weeks; therefore I hope all WA breeders have now completed their safety awareness certificate. If you haven't completed this course, please go to our website and complete your certificate now. We also encourage you to have your staff, family and regular visitors to your property complete this safety awareness course.

All the best in planning your matings for the coming season.

BLACKWATCH STUD

There is a saying that is so true, "you can never have too much of a good thing" and the striking looking, well related PASSENGER (Redoute's Choice) is another of the son's of Redoute's Choice that stands at stud in WA for the 2013 season. In the past few seasons, the champion sire has now established himself as a sire of sires through the deeds of the likes of Stratum, Snitzel, Not A Single Doubt and so on and with a number of young and up and coming sires sons by him too, his legacy will live on in many seasons to come. In just two life time starts, Passenger showed an enormous amount of ability being a city winner but unfortunately went amiss never getting to reach his true potential on the track. His great looks and the potential he had shown however, made him well worth being given the chance to stand at stud. In his short time at stud, Passenger has sired the nice city winner Shawshank as well as another good few winners and placegetters. Having had yearlings sell up to 10 times his service fee at past sales and being a half brother to the dam of outstanding filly Mnemosyne, Passenger is a sire on the rise that gives good appeal to breeders and buyers.

Shawshank

DARLING VIEW THOROUGHBREDS

ECONSUL (NZ) (Pins), a son of champion New Zealand sire Pins arrives in the west to stand the 2013 season at the Atwell family's Darling View Thoroughbreds property. Pins of course is a son of one of the great stallions of years gone by Snippets, a stallion who has had such a huge influence on the industry in Australasia and will continue to do so for many years to come. Econsul is out of a Group 1 performed Centaine mare so he certainly has some great blood running through his veins. A Group 1 winner of the stallion making Caulfield Guineas as a 3YO, Econsul previously stood at stud in Victoria and comes to the west for the coming breeding season. Already the sire of many winners over east as well as having the stakes performed Shezapro here in WA, Econsul has sired city winners in Victoria, New South Wales, South Australia, Tasmania and here in the WA of course as well. Having had less than 70 odd runners and yet still being able to produce city winners in 5 states of Australia is testament to the quality of this new addition to the WA stallion ranks.

Shezapro

FERRARI RACING AND BREEDING

PITLECO (Exceed and Excel) is an exciting stallion prospect owned by Kim Loxton of Ferrari Racing and Breeding. Kim a passionate supporter of the industry has had plenty of success in recent times with his top sprinter Texan and he is very positive about the prospects of his well related son of champion juvenile sire Exceed and Excel. This season has seen the progeny of Exceed and Excel dominate the 2YO races around the country with the triple crown of Group 1 races at the Sydney Autumn carnival all won by progeny of him. Overreach won the Golden Slipper, Guelph the Sires Produce and Champagne Stakes and throw into that Camporella, the dominant 2YO here in the west this season too. Pitleco himself was unraced due to injury and aside from being from a hot sireline, he is out of broodmare of the year Twiglet. She is the dam of 8 winners including the star Hong Kong galloper Fairy King Prawn and successful Queensland based sire Easy Rocking. A good type who has covered a nice book of mares in his first two seasons, he looks well set up for some successful years ahead.

Exceed and Excel

PETER GIADRESKO

CHANCE IN TIME (Danetime) is a young horse who has only covered a handful of mares, but from all reports he has left some really nice foals on the ground and comes from one of WA's most sought after families. Chance InTime is by the outstanding ill fated Danetime, a stallion who dominated the sire ranks in WA over a number of seasons and is now a popular sire of sires with Bushranger, Myboycharlie and Vital Equine all sons of him at stud. From this outstanding blue blooded female line, Chance InTime is a half brother to Corporate James and is from the same family as Group winners Machine Gun Tom, Hot Shot Brother, Marasco, Time Matters and Melbourne Cup winner, Rogan Josh. A horse with great fertility having a 100% fertility in two of his three seasons at stud and knowing they will be given plenty of opportunity heading into a leading stable in the states South West, this sure gives Chance InTime a great opportunity at stud in seasons to come.

Cool Business

GOLD FRONT RACING AND BREEDING

SLATER (Redoute's Choice) becomes the first stallion to stand at WA's newest major farm, Gold Front Racing and Breeding. This beautifully developed property owned by Alan and Sue Olive is horse heaven and well set up for them to stand an exciting stallion prospect for the coming season. A city winning 2YO in Sydney, Slater has an impeccable pedigree being by the hottest sire of sires, Redoute's Choice. It's probably no surprise that Redoute's Choice is carrying on the legacy that his father Danehill left behind him and after being champion sire himself, Redoute's Choice is fast becoming a super sire of sires. His sons at stud include Snitzel (the sire of unbeaten WA horse Smoko), Not A Single Doubt, and Stratum (Golden Slipper producing sire). Slater has a blue blooded female side to his pedigree too and is out of the outstanding 3 time Group 1 winner Special Harmony who won some of our best races including the VRC Oaks, Thousand Guineas and the Arrowfield Stud Stakes. This family has been a one of the best in the Australian Stud Book for many seasons with the grandam Marooned Lady being the dam of 4 Group performed horses.

Special Harmony

HEYTESBURY STUD

Exciting times ahead for one of WA's most famous farms with the addition of the first season sire for the coming season OUQBA (GB) (Red Ransom). This good looking strong type was well performed on the track and was good enough to win as a 2YO, be a Group winner as a 3YO, and run second in a Group 1 as a 4YO. He is sired by one of the great sires of the world Red Ransom, a sire who has had good success through his sons Charge Forward and Red Dazzler as well as having a number of popular sons who have just recently gone to stud such as All American, Duporth, Onemorenomore etc. His female line is full of black type winners around the world being out of a Machiavellian mare that won as a 2YO and from the family of the very good Hong Kong Group 1 winner, Housemaster.

The next of the three Heytesbury horses is the elder statesman SAXON (Danehill) and he is by no mean all that old having only entered stud in 2007. Saxon continues to produce his winners and was the shining light for the farm back in the 2010/11 racing season being leading first season sire with a good number of two year old winners in his very first crop. Producing those tough and precocious types which we have since seen train on at three and four, he has been well supported in his time at stud, as you would expect. His stakes horses include Comtesse La Gran, Red Hot Sax and Valley Girl and he has produced a number of other well performed city class horses too. His good follow up books of mares that came from being leading first season sire here will hold him in good stead going forward and is sure to keep his flag flying in the seasons ahead. The smart investor may take advantage of those big books still to come and these next couple of seasons may indeed be an ideal year to breed to this Group 2 winning son of the mighty Danehill.

Commencing stud duties just a year behind Saxon was the fast juvenile HUSSON LIGHTNING (Hussonet) and he has made his presence felt with his first two crops of racing age on the track. A fast precocious horse himself, who raced in all the early two year old races the length of the country, Husson Lightning is already throwing that same early speed into his stock as you would hope to see. A son of leading international sire Hussonet and out of a Snippets mare, Husson Lightning has a great speed pedigree and has already produced the fast city winners, Grey Cheval, Cherie Amour, Tempestuous Strike, Airglow, Play With Fire and many more. With WA racing heavily influenced by many short course races, Husson Lightning produces just the ideal type that can get up and going early over the sprint distance and gives the owner a quick return on their investment.

MOGUMBER PARK

NATURAL BLITZ (by Dehere) stands his second season at Mogumber Park and he has certainly had a good past 12 months with a number of nice winners during this past season. Natural Blitz of course was an outstanding five time Group 2 winner from 1000m up to 2400m and proved to be tough and very durable over his own career. This trait is certainly being passed on to his progeny and given that little bit of time to mature and as they step up in distance, he is proving to be a sire that can get a very good staying type. Destroy was a great winner of this seasons Listed Bunbury Cup over 2200m and Ningaloo Blitz was a dominant staying filly over summer, winning 4 races in a row from 2000m to 2200m. For that patient breeder that is looking to produce a horse that gets over that little bit further ground, he really does present a nice breeding prospect for broodmare owners in the coming season.

MUNGRUP STUD

A great variety once again describes the Mungrup roster in 2013 with some seasoned campaigners (one making his return), the proven performers, the up and comers and of course the exciting second season horse, DICK TURPIN (IRE) (Arakan). This highly credentialed horse comes to the stand his second season after covering a nice book of 88 mares in 2012 which sets him up well for his future at stud. With a time form rating of 127 at three years, DickTurpin mixed it with the best throughout his career and was an outstanding performer on the racetrack. A Group 2 winning two year old, Group 1 winner at both three and four years certainly puts him up there as one of the best performed racehorses to have shuttled out to Western Australia. Through his career he defeated the likes of Canford Cliffs and importantly was able to win four races at two years which holds him in good stead for Australian racing. This grandson of Nureyev, being by his son Arakan is an exciting second season sire to the state for the coming season.

Of course there are a number of others standing at the Narrikup nursery that come well qualified and none more so than the leading juvenile sire ORATORIO (Stravinsky). A leading sire over a number of seasons who is well known for producing top line juveniles, Oratorio has produced two Karrakatta Plate winners already in his short time at stud. He is no one trick pony mind you, he has also sired the likes of smart sprinter Waratah's Secret, the ill fated Like an Eagle, Boulder Cup winner Belora and a number of other top older horses. Oratorio is a well liked stallion by many of the local owners and trainers and with well over 50% winners to runners, 15 stakes horses, he has certainly proved he can get a top liner and of course has the pedigree to do so, being from one of WA's fastest families. Breeders have a good opinion of him with a number of yearlings again selling well in 2013 and giving a nice return for those breeding for the commercial market.

DANEHILL EXPRESS (Danehill) has been a popular horse at both the sales and the breeding shed since he commenced his stallion career and his two crops of racing age are not disappointing on the track. His progeny have really come to hand as 3YO's and he has now sired 30 individual winners including stakes winner and Magic Millions 3YO winner, Express Service. He has 3 other stakes horses as well, along with a host of other nice city winning horses and has produced a number of nice city winning 2YO's this season too. A beautiful, big strong, good looking son of the incomparable Danehill and from the wonderful producing Savannah Success, Danehill Express was a Group 1 performer himself and with his progeny getting better with age, he certainly looks set for a long and successful career at stud.

RED HOT CHOICE (Redoute's Choice) was a $1million yearling and as a type he does befit that price tag with his "movie star" looks. Entering stud in 2011, Red Hot Choice retired to stud having been a winner and stakes performer on two occasions. He is by the all conquering Redoute's Choice whose sire sons include, Stratum, Not A Single Doubt and one of the hottest stallions in the land Snitzel (sire of exciting unbeaten WA horse Smoko). His female side of his pedigree is equally as impressive and is out of a stakes winning General Nediym mare who is a half sister to VRC Oaks winner, Hollow Bullet.

The next on the roster is a horse bought out to Australia with the thought in mind of breeding the horse that will get further, a cups horse you might say and HALA BEK (IRE) (Halling) certainly fits the bill here. A grandson of Diesis out of a well related Saddlers Wells mare, Hala Bek commenced stud duties in Australia in 2010 and was very popular amongst a number of the state's top breeders and a number of those breeders looking to breed a horse to get over ground. Hala Bek only faced the starter on three occasions; he impressively won his debut as a three year old over 2200m and then went on so close in The Derby finishing fourth - had he not shied with 100m or so to go, the result may have been a whole lot different! He was then off the scene for some time through injury and returned as a five year old to demolish a field over 2050m and then not seen again due to injury. A very interesting sire prospect and for those looking to breed a horse for those races over that bit extra ground, you don't have to look too far when considering the credentials of this horse who's handful of yearlings offered at the 2013 sales have proven to be very popular amongst the local trainers.

McFLIRT (Kaapstad) has been a consistent sire of winners over a number of years and he continues to get winners popping up all the time. A good racehorse himself who won his first five races in a row, McFlirt has enjoyed a number of winners from each crop in his time at stud. The sire of around 90 individual winners, McFlirt has now produced 6 stakes horses including the tough staying type Global Flirt a winner of over $300,000 and the winner of the Listed Towton Cup. A good bread and butter stallion he could be best described as, McFlirt has proven he certainly is a stallion that can produce a nice winner.

ETERNITY RANGE (Majestic Light) makes his return to stud duties at Mungrup in 2013 after a few seasons standing on loan in the north and is again sure to attract mares more from those breeders looking to perhaps breed to race. With limited opportunity in his career, he has sired over 50% winners to runners including 5 stakes winners which include Moccasin Bend a few seasons back, but more recently the likes of Watermans Bay and El Rijes who are both very nice horses who have been racing in good company. Eternity Range has sired over 65 individual winners in his career and has sired winners in Singapore, Malaysia and Macau as well as at home in Australia.

RANGEVIEW STUD

What a great coup for not just Rangeview Stud itself, but for the WA industry when Rob and Jody Gray were able to secure the former Darley stallion HENNY HUGHES (USA) (Hennessy) for stud duties in 2012. No sooner had he been announced to stand here in WA, his outstanding young daughter Beholder went on to add to her already impressive race record by stepping out and winning the Breeders Cup Juvenile at Group 1 level for fillies. She returned again in January of this year for a second at Group 2 level first up, before winning the Santa Anita Las Virgenes Stakes – Group 1, then the Santa Anita Oaks – Group 1 and that was followed by a second in the Kentucky Oaks - Group 1. Not a bad campaign from a seriously good filly! Of course that win back in the Breeders Cup juvenile by Beholder and such is his popularity in America, Henny Hughes was snapped up to shuttle back to the Northern Hemisphere to stand this current season. With over 63% winners to runners worldwide, 13 stakeswinners already and a host of winners all over the length and breadth of Australia too, Henny Hughes has come to WA at just the right time and gives breeders a great option to breed to an internationally proven stallion this coming season.

Not to be forgotten of course is KEY BUSINESS (Success Express) the flag bearer for Rangeview Stud over many years and whilst it has to be said he is in the twilight of his career, not a season goes by where he doesn't have a very nice horse running around in our good races here in WA. Of course in the past couple of seasons he has had the star on the racetrack in the form of Barakey who has kept his sires name up in lights, but more importantly he is a sire that has been a prolific sire of winners over many seasons. His progeny have won close to 750 races between them and has produced 20 stakes horses in his career as well.

Rounding out the trio of stallions at Rangeview is the well performed SO SECRET (Danetime) who again proved popular at the 2013 Magic Millions Perth Sale with a very healthy clearance rate sold of his yearlings offered. Again, his progeny headed to a number of the state's leading trainers and going by the results of his 2YO's at the trials in recent times, it will only be a matter of time before he starts racking up the race winners. Testament to the way his first crop of 2YO's are going was that a number of first crop yearling buyers returned to the sales this year to buy again. A Group 3 winning son of a Danetime - a sire who made such a huge impact in only a handful of seasons at stat here in WA and now looks set to carry on his legacy through his sons. So Secret has a mouth watering female line being out of the Bletchley Park mare - Most Secret, herself a wonderful race mare and having gone on to be an outstanding producer. With a great bunch of mares visiting So Secret in his early seasons, he can certainly keep Rangeview Stud producing many winners as they already do, for many seasons ahead.

SCENIC LODGE

Barely a week goes by when the outstanding BLACKFRIARS (Danehill) doesn't produce another black type winner or city winner and he again will be crowned Champion WA stallion of this current season. His sire Danehill has proven to be one of the great breed shapers of our industry and the influence Blackfriars is having here in WA is simply outstanding as well. You know when you are buying or breeding a Blackfriars, you are increasing you chances to get a top class horse and in the past two months alone he has sired the winners of 5 black type races. Kerrific won both the Grandstand Cup and Belmont Sprint, Moneghetti won the York Stakes, Black Tycoon the Hyperion and Summahs Touch the Belmont Guineas! Now the sire of over $20 million in earnings with over 7% stakes winners to runners, the resident sire at Scenic Lodge is certainly up there with the best to have stood at stud in WA.

Summah's Touch

UNIVERSAL RULER (Scenic) is of course a fitting horse to have standing at the Smith's farm having stood his sire Scenic with so much success in past years. Universal Ruler was a flying machine on the track and was good enough to win at Group or Listed level at two, three and four years of age. He defeated champion sprinter and Australian Horse of the Year Scenic Blast at two years and showed an enormous turn of foot in his races. Universal Ruler is sure to mate well with those mares that have already gone so well with Scenic in the past, and you would expect the Scenic legacy to carry on well into the future with this horse. A fast type with good books of mares who will present his first crop will be 2YO's in the coming 2013/14 season.

TAUNTON VALE

The arrival of DEMERIT (Lonhro) to the roster at Taunton Vale in 2011 was a welcome addition to the WA sires ranks and his first crop foals born last season have not disappointed and we now eagerly await the 2014 yearling sales when that first crop sell. A son of the great Lonhro who was crowned champion sire of Australia in 2010/11 Taunton Vale are very excited about the prospects of Demerit, the only son of Lohhro at stud in the west. Demerit was an outstanding Group 3 winning 3YO and is out of a Scenic mare and certainly looks a nice sire prospect in just his third season at stud. Scenic needs no introduction here in WA having been champion sire here on numerous occasions and has been a huge influence on the industry here. As mentioned Demerit is by Lonhro who is sire who has taken all before him in the past seasons having produced the Sydney 2YO Triple Crown winner of 2012, Pierro. The unbeaten Pierro was good enough to win all 3 of the major juvenile Group 1's over the Sydney Autumn carnival - The Golden Slipper Stakes, Sires Produce Stakes and Champagne Stakes.

TOUCHSTONE FARM

We mentioned in last year's edition that when Touchstone Farm first sourced the well credentialed Group 2 winning 2YO, VITAL EQUINE (IRE) (Danetime) they were just hoping that if he could pass on that same toughness he had shown himself in his racing career, then what an exciting horse for WA he would be in years to come. Well isn't 12 months a long time in this game with Vital Equine now having the benefit of two crops of racing age here in Australia and he has certainly made breeders, owners and trainers stand up and take notice of him. Starting off with smallish numbers and just going about things quietly, Vital Equine has really stepped up in the past season with a host of really nice horses and plenty coming through that look to have bright futures too. Last season we saw Wombies' Legacy win 4 times as a 2YO, but that has been followed up this past year by the 3 time winning 2YO Vital Importance, so he has proven he can get them to go early. Takanori is by far and away his best performed horse here in the West though and she looks a filly with a very bright future having already been a stakes winner as a 3YO for the stallion. In a state where his sire Danetime needed no introduction, it is great to now see the progeny of Vital Equine showing that same grit and determination of their father.

PLANET FIVE (USA) (Storm Cat) is entitled to put his hand up to lay claim to the title of one of the finest related stallions to have stepped foot in WA, with what is quite simply a mouth watering pedigree. Planet Five was a Group 2 winner over 1000m and this son of world class sire Storm Cat stands his third season here in WA this coming 2013 season. This same sireline has hit it's straps in recent times locally too through the deeds of Group 1 Railway Stakes winner Mr Moet who is a grandson on Storm Cat, so certainly adds weight to the fact that this sireline works well here in our state. Planet Five was a fast time horse who is a son of Six Perfections, she a three time Group 1 winner who comes from the direct family of the amazing Miesque. This incredible filly won ten times at Group 1 level and then went on to be the dam of one of the leading sires in the world in Kingmambo, just for good measure. Planet Five had weanlings sell well at an earlier weanling sale this year and we look forward to seeing his first yearlings in 2014. If you want the stallion with plenty of speed and the big pedigree for your mare, then you've found it in Planet Five.

For a stallion to start off his career so well it then puts him under pressure to carry that on as you eagerly await the next wave of top horses to come through. This next Touchstone stallion produced a Magic Millions 2YO Classic winner and a WA Guineas winner in what seemed like no time at all. Whilst this certainly helps set up a stallion up and shows he has what it takes to make it at stud, the critics of course want to see the follow up. FLYING PEGASUS (Fusaichi Pegasus) has done all of this and more, he started off with a bang in his first 12 months producing the winners of those two feature races and his follow up has been just as exciting. In the last season to see horses other than King Saul and Western Fever stand up and be counted is proof as to what a decent stallion Flying Pegasus is. Baleen In Me is a very promising horse and let's not forget The Rising who went unbeaten in his first 5 starts! Flying Pegasus has always been well supported and rightly so with the credentials he has. A proven producer who can get you a top liner, this good looking stallion will be producing winners for many seasons to come.

Baleen In Me

WESTBURY PARK

A deal brokered with one of the most famous stud farms in the world will see LUCKY UNICORN (NZ) (Redoute's Choice) stand at stud in WA for the coming 2013 season. Sir Patrick Hogan of the famed Cambridge Stud in New Zealand put together a deal with Westbury Parks' Phil Ibbotson and this son of Redoute's Choice will continue his future career here in WA. Lucky Unicorn is by Redoute's Choice, a horse who is not only a champion stallion, but fast becoming a terrific sire of sires. Lucky Unicorn is out of a half sister to a Group 1 winner of the Galaxy - Masked Party and importantly he is a three-quarter brother to multiple Hong Kong Group 1 winner Inspiration. Starting his racing career in Hong Kong, Lucky Unicorn was a 2YO and 3YO winner up there before returning to training in Australia where he was good enough to win at Listed level at Flemington. Lucky Unicorn retired to Cambridge Stud a 5 time winner and has already been the sire of over 25 individual winners and has produced 2 black type horses including Capital Diamond who is Group 1 performed. With good numbers still coming through out of some of those great Cambridge Stud families, it wouldn't be a surprise to see more top performers unearthed by him in the next few seasons ahead.

YARRADALE STUD

Again in 2013, Yarradale Stud stand an impressive line up of stallions at their Gidgegannup farm for the coming season and offer a wide range of sirelines by a number of proven stallions. Their already strong roster from last season has been tweaked again and we see two exciting new additions that will surely appeal to the WA market.

We better start with the new kids on the block and it was with much excitement that Yarradale Stud was able to secure the Singapore Champion 2YO and 3YO of his generation, GINGERBREAD MAN (Shamardal) for stud duties. This 11 time winner was an outstanding Group 1 winner of the Singapore Guineas as a 3YO and always mixed it with the best racing in feature races for the most part of his career. A high speed racehorse who had a devastating turn of foot at the end of his races, Gingerbread Man was a real crowd favourite in Singapore with his trademark acceleration. Being a son of a stallion many regard as possibly one of the greatest stallions alive and the only son of him here in WA, that surely adds to his appeal as well. The sons of Shamardal such as Lope De Vega and Captain Sonador who's oldest are just weanlings have proven very popular at the weanling sales around Australia in 2013, which is testament to the regard held of their father Shamardal. Gingerbread Man is out of a mare by Hurricane Sky and descends from the family of a Spyglass, a multiple Group 1 winning New Zealand bred mare. He looks to be an exciting addition to the WA stallion ranks and with the Singapore market one that has been so important to the WA industry over the last few decades, having a highly regarded Singapore Champion available to WA breeders may auger well for more sales into that part of Asia in the years ahead.

The second of the two new stallions in 2013 is one of America's hottest young sires, FROST GIANT (USA) (Giant's Causeway). A Group 1 winner himself who was tough enough to race over 4 seasons and was proven on both turf and dirt, Frost Giant is by Storm Cat's son Giant's Causeway, who ranked as North America's leading sire in 2009, 2010 and 2012. This is the same sireline that produced the Adam Durrant trained 2012 Railways Stakes winner Mr Moet as well as speed machine Travinator - a proven sireline here in the west. Frost Giant is out of the Gone West mare Takesmybreathaway, a half sister to Mutakddim, sire of 100 stakes winners. This also is the prolific female family of Kentucky Derby - Group 1 winner Super Saver, champion juvenile and international sire Rhythm, Grade 1 winner and sire Bluegrass Cat, Grade 1 winner Girolamo and many others. At stud in America, Frost Giant smashed the record for first-crop earnings by a New York-based first season sire when his progeny amassed $840,633 in 2012. Remarkably, even though he had fewer foals in his debut crop than any other sire in the top 30, he was leading American first season sire by winners to runners - 80% (ahead of the likes of Big Brown, Street Boss etc) and was also leading American first season sire by percentage of stakes horses to runners - 27%.

A beautiful big strong type with a pedigree who is already getting the runs on the board siring winners on turf and dirt, he certainly looks another exciting new prospect for the 2013 season.

West Hills Giant

Not to be overshadowed by the new boys is the proven performer WAR CHANT (USA) (Danzig) who returns to Yarradale in 2013 from his base at the famed Three Chimneys in America. Having stood the two previous southern hemisphere seasons at Yarradale Stud, this impeccably related son of Danzig was a Group 1 winner of the Breeders Cup on turf (defeating Dansili) and has already sired Group 1 winners on both turf and dirt and was well received in his first two seasons in WA, covering some outstanding mares. One of the most highly credentialed horses to ever stand at stud in this state, War Chant has the impeccable statistics of having produced nearly 70% winners to runners in 24 different countries and progeny earnings of over $32 million and has produced Group winners all over the world. Quite simply, he is one of the finest horses ever to stand at stud here in this state and should again command a nice book of mares for the coming season. A proven producer, the industry eagerly awaits his first crop of yearlings to be sold here in 2014.

Hot on his heels of War Chant is another son of Danzig, this time a hot stallion on the way up - SCANDAL KEEPER (USA) (Danzig). When you look at most top stallions, they come from a stallion's family and this guy is just that. Out of a sister to Canny Lad and from the family of Sepoy, which is the family of Rothesay too, Scandal Keeper is bred for this job. He was only lightly raced due to injury, but his deeds at stud ensure he is a horse who is certainly getting plenty of attention at present. Covering a handful of mares in the east prior to his arrival at Yarradale Stud and with his first WA crop now just 3YO's, Scandal Keeper has the brilliant figures of 16 runners for 11 winners (69%) and that is sure to continue to improve as a number of those 'non winners' by him are knocking on the door and have already been placed. His average earnings per runner is brilliant and he has proven his 2YO's are no nonsense types that just get out and run. His book for the 2012 season was full by the end of June, such was his popularity and that big book he covered in last season will be running as 2YO's when you offer your yearling from this seasons conceived crop - following on this season and breeding to him in 2013 would be smart business sense!! His yearlings have sold to $160,000 in the last two years, he has the mouth watering stats and 2013 looks to be a great year to breed to him.

MUSKET (Redoute's Choice) is one of the longer serving stallions at the farm, but only joined the team in 2010 and is certainly not to be overshadowed either by those that we have discussed before him. This quality looking Group 2 winning son of the all conquering Redoute's Choice, he is best described as "racing royalty" being the 3/4 brother to one of the greats of the turf, Makybe Diva. Of course the sons of Redoute's Choice are in huge demand and through the likes of Stratum (a great stallion), Not A Single Doubt (very popular) and Snitzel (one of the hottest in the land) this sireline is proving to be what everyone is chasing now, which continues on that great Danehill blood. Musket did cover a small group of mares in 2009 in the east before coming to Yarradale Stud and from this handful of mares has already produced two decent 2YO winners this season. Expecting them to get better with the benefit of extra time, it was a surprise to see Rutherglen (out of a Zabeel mare) win in track record time in NSW as a 2YO and in late June Stocky won as a 2YO in NSW as well. All very promising signs from a horse whose progeny we would imagine will be better as 3YO's and with decent books already covered to follow, Musket too looks set for a good future at stud.

Big, strong and impressive has always been the best way to describe the next Yarradale sire, DISCORSI (Galileo). A 10 out of 10 on type and from one of WA's fastest families, Discorsi is a half brother to successful WA stallion Oratorio and multiple Group 1 winning filly Sea Siren. This is the family that has produced horses like Hold That Smile, Carry A Smile and so on, so he certainly comes from a well performed family here in the west. Discorsi also has the added benefit of being by one of the great sires of the world, Galileo - sire of the unbeaten Frankel! Naturally a horse this well credentialed, ticking all the boxes has covered great books and good numbers of mares.

His yearlings at this year's sales were very highly regarded and of his 20 yearlings that were offered at the Perth Magic Millions Sale in February, 19 sold (95% clearance). He had yearlings sell this year for $110,000, $57,500, $57,500, $47,000 $40,000 etc such was his popularity and one of the key ingredients is that a number have gone to many of the states leading stables. Smart breeders will be using him this year you would think as those good crops will be on the ground and running for you when you present a yearling from this seasons covering.

The fighting tiger Northerly was quite simply one of the best horses we have seen in Australia in the past decade and his half brother HERITAGE (Flying Spur) also stands at Yarradale Stud this coming season. A nine time Group 1 winner of over $9 million in stake earnings, Northerly certainly earned his Australian Horse Of The Year title and Heritage is continuing on the success of the family now at stud. In a short time at stud Heritage has produced a number of good winners already, including the smart Listed Gimcrack Stakes winner Flying Affair as well as country Cups aspirant Ancient Spell and good winners, Miss Legacy, Hay Street Hero, Lil Kim etc.

The turf loses three stars

Black Caviar (Bel Esprit) didn't dodge a fight in four years of racing and she built up a following that transcended racing. The world champion mare retired with a perfect 25-25-0-0 record and, along the way, guaranteed sell-out crowds at home and abroad.

There will be a lull after losing a superstar of her stature and it will be exacerbated by the loss of two colts who left the stage with their best racing days still ahead.

All Too Hard and Pierro met four times and the scorecard ended at two apiece.

Pierro (Lonhro) jumped the gun with wins in the G1 Sires' Produce Stakes at Randwick and G3 Run To The Rose at Rosehill. All Too Hard (Casino Prince) squared the ledger in the G1 Caulfield Guineas and then finished ahead of his arch-rival in the G1 Cox Plate.

This year's Cox Plate on October 26 would have been packed to the rafters if both colts were back on deck as four year-olds. Instead of lining up at Moonee Valley, All Too Hard and Pierro will be more than half-way through full books in the Hunter Valley.

All Too Hard is a younger half-brother of Black Caviar and will stand for $66,000 at Vinery Stud. Pierro has been priced at $77,000 by Coolmore Stud.

Vinery general manager Peter Orton confirmed All Too Hard's initial book was virtually full when interviewed at the Gold Coast Magic Millions in June. "He's the real deal and is the most exciting stallion prospects I've seen for many years," Orton claimed. "He was a super racehorse and his pedigree is perfectly suited to our conditions."

All Too Hard was the highest rated 3YO in Australia and the equal highest 3YO Colt world-wide in the latest global rankings for the six months ending April 28. All Too Hard (122) was also ranked second to his older half-sister Black Caviar (130) as the highest rated horse in Australia. "It was a difficult decision for us to retire a colt with so much more to offer as a racehorse," Orton added. "All Too Hard has done all we could have asked for and more. He is the most spectacular physical specimen and offers a great pedigree mix to a vast range of broodmares.

"He's a half brother to Black Caviar and he also offers the blood of champion sires such as Danehill, Snippets, Last Tycoon, Flying Spur and Vain."

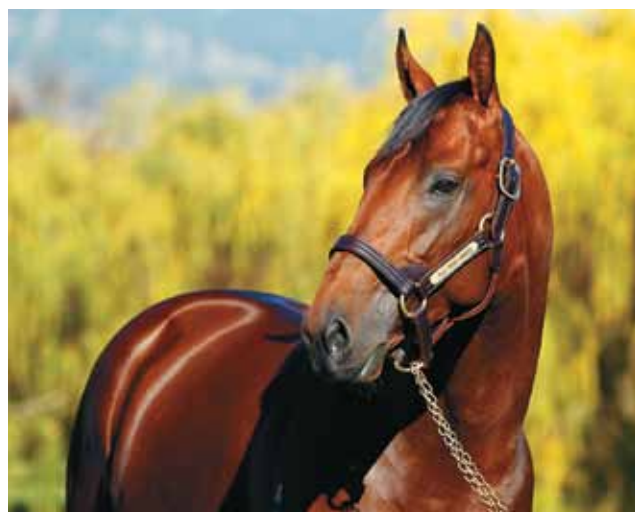

Bred and reared by Rick Jamieson at Gilgai Farm in Victoria, All Too Hard was a seven-figure yearling when purchased by Nathan Tinkler's Patinack operation at the 2011 Inglis Easter Sale. All Too Hard's value had sky-rocketed by the time Tinkler was forced to sell his prized colt due to mounting debts earlier this year. Vinery paid a reported $25 million in a package deal that also included Tinkler's Hunter Valley property and the Red Ransom stallion Onemorenomore.

PIERRO will be given every chance to succeed by Coolmore Stud. "A horse like Pierro is fundamental to the continued development of our operation in Australia," Coolmore manager Michael Kirwan explained. "We've followed his career very closely and we're thrilled that he is joining our roster."

Pierro emulated Baguette as the only unbeaten 2YO Triple Crown winner in Sydney since 1970. "He was a truly brilliant two-year-old equally effective at all distances from 1000m to 1600m," Kirwan continued. "And he is the only Triple Crown winner to go on to win two Group 1 races at weight-for-age as a three-year-old." Bred by Darley, Pierro was originally sold through its draft as a foal at the 2010 Magic Millions National Sale for $115,000. Victorian based breeder David Kobritz on-sold him as a yearling for $230,000 at the 2011 Gold Coast Magic Millions.

Champion trainer Gai Waterhouse bought the colt for her stable clients Greg and Donna Kolivos and he blazed a trail as a two year-old winning the Golden Slipper, Sires' Produce and Champagne Stakes.

He won 8 in a row before All Too Hard ran him down in the 2012 Caulfield Guineas. The Coolmore deal is believed to value him at $35 million.

Black Caviar

BLACK CAVIAR bowed out of racing shortly after winning her second T J Smith Stakes at Randwick in April. It was the end of an unprecedented career that began with a five length victory in the Cromwell Hcp (1000m) at Flemington on April 18, 2009. She started a $3 favourite with Perth apprentice Jarrad Noske aboard and, from then on, it was red figures all the way."

Black Caviar went on to win 8 races at Flemington, including a hat-trick in the G1 Lightning Stakes. Such was her popularity, the third edition was renamed the 'Black Caviar Lightning Stakes'.

"We thought long and hard about racing on," trainer Peter Moody said in an emotional farewell. "But she has done everything and we felt it was right to call time."

"This year's campaign has been a bonus. That Royal Ascot win in 2012 took a heavy toll. I thought that was the end of the line but she gave us three more wins in the Lightning, William Reid and T J Smith."

"She did a great job promoting racing," Moody added. "It brought interest to our sport that hasn't been there for decades."

Race clubs will pray another crowd-pleaser arrives in the not too distant future. But Black Caviars don't come along every day.

Kim Loxton and the Good Life

by John Elsegood

■ Kim Loxton has been broke, so he knows what it is like to fight back from adversity.

He was also doing that when this interview was conducted, completing a short stint in hospital which is probably about the only way of slowing him down.

Perhaps it was appropriate that he owned such a tenacious galloper as Texan who never knew the meaning of not fighting for success after entering trainer Adam Durrant's stable.

The NSW bred galloper gave Loxton eight wins from 16 starts in WA after he was purchased for $15,000 from Gooree Stud. Texan had one win from five starts on NSW rural tracks but was not deemed to be 'top drawer.' After coming West, he never stopped being competitive and was renowned for always digging deep and refusing to surrender lightly.

Apart from averaging a win every second start in WA the galloper also had five seconds and it took some good types such as Excelorada, Bombora, Reimbursement and Rose to beat him.

His owner has also progressed and developed. In fact property development is what Loxton does well and has enabled him to develop his racing and breeding interests.

A Kalgoorlie boy, he has developed homes, shopping

centres, motels and hotels enjoying success and “being broke twice,” as he said. “In fact, the racehorses helped save my life in those bleak periods. They were putting the food on the table,” he recalled. That is an interesting twist as many an owner will say that horses have cost money rather than providing it. As Loxton has owned between 150-200 horses the bad times clearly, and fortunately, have not lasted. Although based in Perth he has added a couple of hotels and motels in Karratha to his ‘stable’ and spends a great deal of his time in the Pilbara.

His success with Texan also epitomises his strong working relationship with Gooree Stud manager Andrew Baddock. “I get first crack at their stock that they do not think are going to be good metropolitan performers in Sydney and Melbourne”

Call Me Henry was another success story for him. A winner of seven of his first 21 races racing under the Gooree banner, Loxton purchased him for $11,000 and at the conclusion of his 83 start career, his record was 20 wins, 10 seconds and 7 thirds, with almost $388,000 in prize money.

Trainer Sean Casey also produced the goods with another Gooree cast off in Red Hannigan (54:11-2-4) with that horse earning close to $689,000 at the finish of his career. Red Hannigan had run third in the 2001 Golden Slipper (1200m) behind Ha Ha and Excellerator so he was no slouch as a performer.

Under Casey the horse was ultimately tried over the stayers journey and careered away with the 2007 Broome Cup. “I thought he was mad preparing Red Hannigan for a 2200m race but he had the last laugh,” Loxton said. “Sean doesn’t get the recognition that he deserves as a trainer and in fact that day was one of my most satisfying.”

It certainly was because Call Me Henry, in the very next, and last race of the day, gave the owner and his trainer a winning double. Both of the Loxton-Casey gallopers were ridden by Tim Stubberfield, now a trainer himself.

The galloper he rated his best was Irish Pride. He cost $20,000 at auction after the horse had 15 starts in NSW for 3 country wins, but finished his career with prize money of almost $364,000 (with 16 wins, 17 seconds and 4 thirds from 64 starts). Trained By Neville Parnham, he consistently competed at the highest level in WA racing and performed admirably when taken to Melbourne, running second in two listed races before being unplaced in the Group 1 Newmarket at Flemington. Fittingly, his last two starts were at Kalgoorlie and were wins by big margins (3 and 4.3 lengths) with huge weights (62.5 and 63.5 kgs).

The other horse that gave Loxton pleasure was Reverend Lovejoy who won a couple of Boulder Cups by a nose, over Gondorff (2009) and Kincaple (2011). The vigorous heavyweight rider, Peter Hall, was aboard the Adam Durrant trained winner both times and the two respective runner-ups were both trained and ridden by Mark Reed and Daniel Staeck, respectively. Reverend Lovejoy also won a Coolgardie Cup at the famous Kalgoorlie round and finished his career with earnings just over $646,000 (66:16-10-2), not bad for a horse Loxton picked out at the yearling sales and paid just $6500 for.

Beating Kincaple, in the 2011 nose bobber, prevented that talented galloper from completing the Goldfields grand slam that year as he had won the Coolgardie Cup and went on to win the Kalgoorlie Cup-Reverend Lovejoy being scratched from the latter race.

Being a Goldfields boy the Kalgoorlie Cup is the race that Loxton really wants for his mantlepiece. The closest he has got to it is as the winning strapper for Seminole Brave when that horse won the 1973 Cup for trainer Marinko Levis.

Loxton’s racing roots run deep. His father, Ian, was a former chairman and committeeman with a 30 year old involvement in the KBRC who also owned thoroughbreds. The young Loxton gravitated from strapping to a bookies clerk until business commitments meant he could no longer afford the time. Now, established in business the 57 year old has found time to diversify into another horse area –breeding. He purchased a 57 acre property in the Serpentine district about 18 months ago.

Studs soak up money and his is no exception particularly with a re-fencing program, the installation of a bore and irrigation system, landscaping and reseeded of paddocks all taking place. “I must have done something right because the end result has seen my fencing contractor and landscaper stay on as permanent employees such is their love of the farm and the serenity it provides. I am extremely fortunate to have retained both of those guys to support, Jade Fletcher, who is a fantastic farm manager, very diligent and competent, and a person who really cares about the welfare of our horses. Together with her assistants, Debra Hagan and Rachel Whitebread, the farm is in great hands and my racing stock will have every opportunity to maximise their potential on the racetrack" he said.

Loxton has 12 of his own broodmares and six leased from fellow stud owner and Perth racing committeeman, Eddie Rigg. His mares include an unraced half sister to the 2011 AJC Oaks winner, Absolutely, and a three quarter sister to Black Caviar's grand dam, Scandanavia. The latter mentioned was the dam of Magnus, a Group 1 Galaxy Handicap winner who also raced at Royal Ascot, finishing third behind Miss Andretti in the 2007 King's Stand Stakes.

But the jewel in the Loxton crown is his young unraced stallion Pitleco, by Exceed and Excel - one of Australia's most fashionable sires.

This year that stallion sired the winning quinella in the Golden Slipper (and fourth as well), plus the Sires Produce and Champagne Stakes winner – the grand slam for two year olds.

Further lustre to the sire's name came from Camporella, trained by Danny Morton. This youngster won the Gimcrack Stakes, Sires Produce Stakes and Magic Millions Classic in Perth in 2013.

Pitleco bowed a tendon, twice, on different legs and after the second problem Loxton decided to use the well bred entire as a sire. He was a graduate of the principal yearling sale in Australia, Sydney Easter, having been bought in 2008 by Patinack Farm for $310,000 and in his owner's words is a "magnificent individual". His dam Twiglet was Australian Brood Mare of the Year in 2001 and he is a three quarter brother to Fairy King Prawn, twice Horse of the Year in Hong Kong.

Pitleco is also a half brother to Queensland Group 1 winner Easy Rocking who Loxton describes as a "good bread and butter stallion." His progeny of 372 racehorses have produced 234 winners at an impressive 62.9% winners to runners ratio and they have accumulated prize money of $24million. His service fee of $8800 has remained at that level for a number of years, recognition of his consistency of producing winners year after year.

Pitleco has served 35 mares in his first year, 2011, and 29 last year. Loxton will put the better half of his yearlings through the Magic Million Sales and keep the others to ensure they all get every chance to get to the race track.

Proud of his new venture Loxton said "I have had Andrew (Baddock) fly over and look at my first crop of weanlings and he said they were exceptional. Lindsey Smith and Adam Durrant are also impressed with Pitleco's early stock."

Loxton has sought advice from stud owners like Neville Duncan with whom he had previously done business with and a person he admires.

"I probably should still have some stud dealings with Neville but I am a gambler who wants to have a red hot go, punting on my own breeding stock."

While Exceed and Excel stands for $88,000 his son will commence with a modest $2200 fee.

In April, last year, Loxton consolidated his racing interests into a private company, Ferrari Racing and Breeding. "Since taking that step I had 20 winners over the last nine months of 2012. It is close to 25 now even though this year has been marred by a spate of injuries to my best gallopers. However, we have good depth in our young team of really well bred two and three year olds and a lot of them are on the verge of returning to the track. Others by champion sires Fastnet Rock, Redoutes Choice, Megdalia D'oro and Encosta De Lago are about to commence their careers."

Apart from the ill-fated Texan (8 wins) other good performers have included Devlish Intent and Fuddle Dee Duddle, with four wins apiece, while he predicted injured youngsters Karratha Crossing (knee chip) and Gladstone (throat impediment) would both come back from injury to be good gallopers.

Just as the Ferrari car is associated with speed and class, Kim Loxton's Ferrari Racing reputation may well be enhanced in the very near future.

Texan wins Birthday Stakes.

Kentucky Derby Trip 2013

■ George Michalczyk well known for his previous tours to the Dubai World Cup and Melbourne's Cox Plate, this year organised the inaugural trip to the 139th running of the Kentucky Derby.

An array of WA's racing enthusiasts including owners, breeders, bookmakers and our own larger than life race broadcaster, come Master of ceremonies Darren McAullay, rounded out the tally.

After a long journey to the east coast of the United States most of the 30 plus members of our tour met in New York City at the spectacularly located Crowne Plaza in Times Square.

The next two days were spent on a whirlwind tour of the sights including The Statue of Liberty, Central Park and a baseball game at Yankee Stadium. With the favourable exchange rates with the Australian dollar, everybody gave their credit cards a workout before departing for Lexington on the Thursday prior to the Derby. A minor hiccup in the travel arrangements saw the bus waiting at JFK airport whilst our tour group waited at the hotel for pickup. Problems ironed out, the tour continued with connecting flights through Charlotte NC. Although, the tight connection in Charlotte saw one of our well known bookmakers odds on to miss the flight after recent knee surgery and was forced to catch a later flight. On descent into Lexington the picturesque views had our group lost for words and we were not disappointed en route to the magnificent Hilton DoubleTree Suites. The rolling green hills framed with post and rail fences and dotted with beautiful horse barns was a horse lovers dream.

A welcome function the first evening hosted by George and Darren had a special guest Craig Bendoroff who foaled, raised and sold champion racehorse Animal Kingdom 2011 Kentucky Derby and 2013 Dubai World Cup winner and hopefully headed for the record books and glory at Royal Ascot. Craig proved to be a very interesting speaker before Darren quickly rustled up a Calcutta and many lucky people in the room drew a horse for the big race. Maureen Allen was the lucky ticket holder for the pre post favourite and eventual Derby winner "Orb".

The Friday saw a full day of events with an early morning trip to Keeneland racecourse, the location for the movie Secretariat, for trackwork and a tour of the beautiful grounds where the Keeneland yearling sales are also held each September. Following this was a tour of the lovely Jonabell farm where the Darley USA base is situated standing a roster of 13 stallions headed by Bernadini at a fee of USD $150 000. Other well known names include Street Cry, Elusive Quality, Hard Spun and not last in our books was Lonhro standing at a comparatively low fee of $30 000. Bernadini was paraded for us and we were expected to admire this awesome piece of horseflesh but we were more interested in seeing the laid back Aussie character Lonhro.

We then moved on to Gainesway Farm home of the successful stallion Tapit a grandson of A P Indy standing at a fee of USD $125 000 and sire of 10 G1 winners and 37 SWinners. Next was the Kentucky horse Park set in over 1000 acres an equestrian themed park with something for everyone from live shows of every aspect of horsemanship to the home of past champions such as Cigar & Go for Gin. An early night was had by most prior to the big day on Saturday with a 13 race card and a 90 min drive to Louisville to the

The Twin Spires (1875), Churchill Downs

The 139th Kentucky Derby watched from the Grandstand

The field procession to the parade ring

Churchill Downs racecourse. The next day dawned overcast and raining with a maximum of 12 deg so there were many reassessments of attire before arriving at the course and realising the most popular dress for ladies was coloured gum boots with a plastic bag over your dress. The Churchill Downs facilities are steeped in history but were never designed to cater for the enormous crowds that descend upon the course for the Derby, this year crowds were down at a figure of 151 000. All under cover areas were packed to capacity and a trip to the gift shop involved a one hour wait just to get in the door. The day passed with many assorted alcoholic beverages being had before the big race of the day was scheduled for after 6 pm which coincided with the only time in the whole day that the rain eased up. Tractors came out in force in the hour preceding the Derby to seal the track which compacts the dirt surface helping the water to run off, though to us Aussies it looked a bog track. The horses then walk the track from their stabling on the opposite side of the track and only come to the saddling stalls prior to their race which is a spectacle in itself with the entourage and lead ponies each runner has in tow. Before long it is post time and they are off in the 139th Derby, Palace Malice set a blistering pace setting the race for backmarkers to get their chance.

The eventual winner Orb a son of Malibu Moon from an Unbridled mare (Lady Liberty) came from the pack after the corner and down the centre of the track on supposedly better going, slogged through the sloppy track to claim the winners purse of $1 439 800. Golden Soul and the equal favourite Revolutionary filling out the placings with a total purse for the Derby a tick under $2.2 million. As soon as the Derby was over the heavens opened again and we beat a hasty retreat to the warmth of the bus before the hour and half drive back to Lexington and the comforts of our hotel.

The final day was a slow start for most with a lunch time departure to the Historic Three chimneys farm where we made the most of the beautiful countryside on the way despite another very wet day. Three chimneys proved to be as lovely as the photos and has been the home to some famous names such as Seattle Slew, Chief's Crown, Slew O' Gold, Rahy to name a few and is now home to a roster of 12 stallions including Big Brown, Yes It's True and WA shuttler War Chant. As our trip coincided with the NH stud season it was business as usual and walk in mares for service were arriving and being covered in our visit and as is the custom in the USA and now in many studs in the Hunter valley mares with foals travel alone while their foal stays safe in a box at home.

Three chimneys was followed by a visit to Denali stud where Craig Bandoroff gave us a behind the scenes look at his lovely band of mares with foals at foot as they were conveniently in the barn on such a wet cold day. One of the mares had produced a foal only that morning so it was a great photo opportunity for everyone whilst the rest of us admired the pedigrees of his mares on each door including the sire of their current foal and the stallion they would visit that year. A few daughters of the great mare Serena's song were amongst them as she was owned by Denali stud.

The final stop was a quick tour of the yearling barn where the colts were in for the day and many were predicted to sell up to the seven figure mark with the highest price fetched for one of their yearlings being in excess of 3 million.

This brought our tour to a close and everybody was heading in different directions the next day with exciting follow on stops from Vegas to Vancouver and a large percentage of the tour electing to take a bus tour down to Memphis for a dose of country music and a tour of Graceland but that's another story.

Quality sells well at Perth Yearling Sale

■ A cracking filly by leading sire Lonhro topped the 2013 Magic Millions Perth Yearling Sale at Belmont. Consigned by Dawson Stud, the filly attracted bids from a number of parties before being purchased by John Chalmers Bloodstock for $260,000.

Lot 114 Lonhro / Most Secret

Chalmers said the filly, a half sister to four stakes performers including Group One winner Covertly, would join the stables of Wally Mitchell.

"She's the stand out filly of the sale," Chalmers said of the filly catalogued as lot 114.

"She is the most correct Lonhro I've seen and she is a really lovely individual."

"I've researched a lot of the pedigree to see where the mares in the family are headed at stud and there is a lot of upside."

"Considering the prices for quality fillies at other sales around Australasia I think she is great value as well," Chalmers added.

The Lonhro filly was one of 18 yearlings to sell for $100,000 or more during Session One. Two colts both sold for $190,000 - one of them, a Testa Rossa colt from Tantra Dancer, was the first lot offered. Also offered by Dawson Stud, the Testa Rossa colt will head to the Jim Taylor stable after being purchased by Damien Wyer. "For mine he is the best horse to have come off Dawson Stud since Famous Roman," Wyer said. "His conformation is perfect, his x-rays were perfect and Jim wanted us to buy him." Last year Wyer purchased the sale topper Petrol Power. On the weekend he ran third in the Magic Millions Perth 2YO Classic.

The other $190,000 seller was the Choisir colt from Flight Path, purchased by Craig Thompson's Mt Hallowell Stud.

The colt, offered by Anita Vale Stud, is the first live foal of the stakes performer, Magic Millions Perth 3YO Trophy winner Flight Path. Catalogued as lot 71 the Choisir-Flight Path colt will join the stables of Trevor Andrews.

All up over $7.5 million was traded on 131 lots sold for an average price of $57,592. "The clearance rate rounded out to 76 per cent which was very good considering there were some very soft patches during the day," Magic Millions Managing Director Vin Cox said. "While not comparing apples to apples because of a new sale format, the market felt very similar to last year."

"It was great to see interstate buyers, including some at their first trip to the Perth sales, amongst the buyers."

Meanwhile, a lovely colt by leading Mungrup Stud stallion Oratorio topped the second session of the Magic Millions Perth Yearling Sale. Catalogued as lot 218, the colt from the stakes performed Scenic mare Academy Girl, was purchased by leading Ascot trainer Trevor Andrews for $100,000.

The Westspeed eligible youngster, a half brother to the stakes performer Knightlike, was offered at the auction by Yarradale Stud. Andrews said he was delighted to secure the colt who he considered the stand out lot of the second session sale. "I really liked the colt," Andrews said. "He's a quality individual and there's a lot of Scenic about him." "He's not going to be the jump and run style Oratorio. He looks more of a later two-year-old and three-year-old. Hopefully he can develop into a Guineas horse."

"He possesses a lot of quality and he will be raced by a loyal group of stable clients," Andrews summed up. Simon Miller, Aquanita Racing's Perth based trainer, was the busiest buyer on Day Two - signing for nine lots at a spend of almost $300,000. Miller snapped up the second top seller of the day, the Danehill Express-Due South colt from Mungrup Stud for $95,000.

Bloodstock agent John Chalmers, trainer Colin Webster, Noel Carter's Commercial Bloodstock Services and Damon Gabbedy's Belmont Bloodstock Agency rounded out the leading buyers list for the day. "The market was reasonably solid," Magic Millions Managing Director Vin Cox said of Session Two. "Quality horses sold very well, but it was tough for those at the other end. Breeders need to continue to invest and improve their bloodstock for the long term health of the industry," Cox added.

Over $3.5 million was traded on 148 lots sold at an average price of almost $24,000 and clearance rate of 68 per cent. "There were a lot of positives over the past two days including new clients in Perth for the first time and buying," Cox said the clearance rate for the preceding day's Session One sale had now passed 80 per cent with strong sales overnight.

"We are pleased with the participation of the Western Australian buyers at the sale as well as those from the Eastern States with their spend up on last year."

Yearling Sale 2013

2013 Yarradale Stud

■ The 19th of May this year saw Ron & Lyn Sayers and their team up at Yarradale Stud conduct their annual Yarradale Stud Farm Yearling Sale on a glorious Sunday afternoon. The sale which is now into its fifth year has certainly established itself as one of the main events on the racing and breeding calendar, attended by a wide range of people from the thoroughbred industry to a number of people just keen for an enjoyable day out in the Perth hills.

Yarradale Stud stands a nice roster of stallions each season and Ron Sayers is very conscious of supporting the Perth Magic Millions Yearling Sale while upholding Yarradale Stud's main goal; to help grow and improve the industry and breed here in WA. Ron Sayers explained his philosophy:

"We are very mindful that the best way to really 'make' a stallion is by having the support of other breeders. These breeders bring different bloodlines to the stallions, they raise their stock in different ways, they assist in promoting the stallions, and they can really help prove up a stallion – which hopefully is beneficial to us all. Of course, most importantly for the commercial breeder, they do need an avenue to sell their yearlings.

With only one major yearling sale a year in WA, if Yarradale Stud turns up with a draft of 50 plus yearlings to that sale, it can flood the market and then devalue other breeders' product. My idea is to offer a medium sized draft of horses, by a variety of sires, at the major yearling sale in February.

Hopefully this then allows those breeders that have supported our stallions the chance to have 'first bite of the cherry' I guess you could say, or first crack at the market. We feel this is only fair as they have supported our stallions. We can then offer the remainder of our yearlings, the majority of which are by our own stallions, at our farm sale a couple of months later as we do."

19 May 2013 Yarradale Stud Annual Farm Yearling Sale Facts:

Since its inception in 2009, the Yarradale Stud Sale has proven to be a great source of winners. Sale graduates have won over 115 races and near on $3 million in prize money from the first three sales conducted at the farm. The top priced lot in 2013 was by the resident first season sire Discorsi (Galileo) from the mare La Melba selling for $110,000 to gun trainer Stephen Miller. The colt is a half brother to the Darley owned Group winner, Raspberries.

Discorsi's progeny averaged over $43,000 at the Yarradale Sale. Being a Listed winner at two and a half-brother to leading WA-based sire Oratorio (AUS), helped make the first crop of Discorsi yearlings very popular at the 2013 sales. Breeders who supported Discorsi in his first year were rewarded when a number of his progeny sold well at the Perth Magic Millions Sale in February.

The second highest price of $70,000 at the Yarradale Sale was paid by Ascot-based trainer Paul Jordon for a Danzero half-brother to the stakes placed horses You Sexy Boy and Macau Eagle. The colt is out of the Generous mare So Amorous, who is herself a daughter of the dual Grade One winner Annoconnor.

Paul is a great supporter of the sale and purchased stakes winner ViewThe Stars off the farm at the inaugural sale in 2009. A total of 48 yearlings were offered at the 2013 sale, with 34 sold for a total of $1,080,000 at an average of $31,800. Yarradale Stud leased another 12 yearlings to owners and trainers.

Ron and Lyn Sayers donated the proceeds of the sale of the filly by Musket (Redoute's Choice) out of Meedan to Redkite, a charity that supports the families of children and young people with cancer. The filly sold for $25,000.

It is a must attend on the racing calendar next year, especially for those that haven't made the trip to Yarradale for the event before.

Fin Powrie: a stipe's story

■ Johnny Weissmuller and Gordon Scott both moved from being associated with swimming pursuits, and wearing bathers, to donning loin cloth in their film roles as Tarzan. In their celluloid role they were still swimming rivers in addition to battling ferocious jungle beasts to establish order.

Fin Powrie used to swim the Swan River as a 14 year old, en route to his job as a barrier attendant at both Ascot and Belmont racecourses. Once there he too would grapple with great beasts to ensure an orderly line for the start.

However, Fin of the River, progressed a little further in the sartorial stakes by exchanging his bathers and track gear, ultimately for a suit, as befitting a stipendiary steward. Powrie recalls how he landed the job as a steward in 1979: "I was covered in horse muck, after a day's work at the barrier, and went in for an interview between races. I was told to start as a steward and get rid of my horses." Powrie had a permit to train but had had no winners. "In fact I had very few to get rid of and I had mainly been engaged in breaking and pre-conditioning racehorses."

Not that he lacked equine experience either in theory or practice. He had been a rodeo rider, worked on studs, ridden trackwork and even had four race rides at Landor. "Guys like Frank Maynard, Brian Lucas, John Bowtell and Alan McPherson were all trainers who started in rodeos." In 1977-8 he was amongst the first group of students to graduate from Muresk College with a Diploma of Equine Stud Management. When he started as a 'stipe' there were no patrol films outside of the metropolitan area and "even in Perth you tried to read the race before relying on film," he said.

Drugs have always been, in his words, omnipresent. "But it has changed from being a simple touch of caffeine to therapeutic substances, to the even more sophisticated drugs such as elephant juice and the manipulation of endogenous substances."

"There was less emphasis with how horses were ridden then but from the mid 1990's onwards, speed maps, videos, sectional times, weights were all analysed."

Animal welfare has become increasingly important in modern society and Powrie was somewhat ahead of the times in this regard. A jockey disqualified for 10 years for using a battery complained to Powrie, by then the Chief Stipe: "How come I get that sort of penalty for trying and a jockey who 'stops one' only gets 12 months?" He didn't receive much sympathy, being reminded that cruelty earned a just 'reward.'

In the last four years there has been plenty of publicity and changes to the use of the whip in racing with the addition of padded whips, plus the number of times and manner jockeys can use it.

Some twelve years earlier Powrie was right on to that issue of equine welfare. In a report by The West Australian racing writer Robert Edwards, ('Powrie Pulls the Whip,' 30/9/97) the Chief Steward made it clear that while riders were expected to make all efforts to win that did not include heavy punishment with the whip, especially on two year olds. Powrie singled out, the then experienced rider, Ian Albuino, for praise in the way he had nursed Foxy Tudor to victory in the Initial Plate. Powrie came to the top job in stewarding when he was appointed WATC chairman of stewards on August 15, 1989, after being appointed as deputy chief 18 months earlier to Wayne Wood.

Although animal welfare and safety are always paramount in a stewards mind Wood and Powrie allowed Marwong to run in the 1988 Railway Stakes, despite veterinary advice, at the barrier, that the horse should be withdrawn. Always a bit scratchy in his movement Marwong vindicated their judgement by winning the race, leaving trainer Geoff Murphy room to only grumble about a "cat and dog vet."

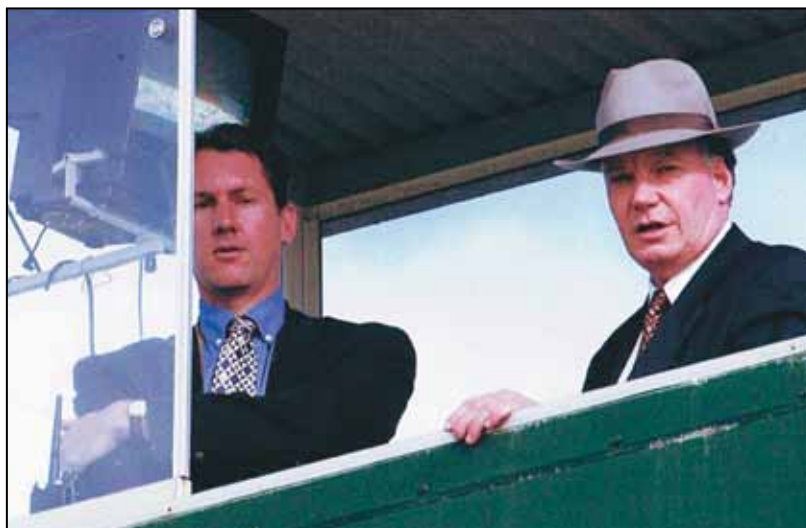

Perth Racing had had its share of controversies in the eighties. Merchant banker L.R. (Laurie) Connell -known as 'Last Resort Laurie' in some circles- was a big punter and business confidant of the then WA Premier, Brian Burke. He also had form. He was banned for two years after the 'Kalgoorlie Sting.' Connell knew that the race call from Melbourne to Kalgoorlie was delayed in Perth by the relay station in Perth as he had a man in Victoria.

The 1983 AHA Cup in Bunbury has entered racing folklore. Connell paid jockey Danny Hobby $5000, to jump off of the favourite, Strike Softly, and leave the way open for Connell's choice Saratoga Express to score. Unfortunately the best laid plans of mice and men sometimes go awry. The riderless Strike Softly interfered with Saratoga Express, allowing a 6/1 shot, Rowella, to romp home. Hobby got a two year ban and an eight year around the world holiday paid for by Connell to keep him away from other investigators of the merchant banker's activities. Hobby, when he eventually returned to Perth, was jailed for three years and warned of racecourses for 17 years. Connell was sentenced to five years for attempting to pervert the course of justice, serving one year before gaining a work release.

The 1987 Perth Cup saw Rocket Racer, a Connell owned horse with $500,000 of the owner's money riding on it start a 2/1 favourite. It was never headed, won by nine lengths and kept running! After an exhausted horse, and rider (JJ Miller), eventually stopped running the galloper was staggering around in a distressed state supported by attendants. The then chief steward, John Mahoney, ordered the horse to the stalls for treatment and he was considered too ill to be swabbed. It was not Perth Racing's finest hour.

Mahoney was later bashed in his home, by criminals, and went back to NSW and Powrie was also threatened in this era, and later as chief steward, most notably by, George Way, a trainer banned in February 1987, over drugging horses. A restraining order was placed on Way after a heated Stewards inquiry, where Way was a witness in a case involving South Australian trainer Les Samba, who was later murdered. Powrie was threatened after the hearing and a car registered to Way's wife was parked outside Powrie's property on the Saturday after the inquiry. Powrie was naturally concerned for his wife Gwenda and their two young boys, David and James. The impact that this era had on Powrie can be seen when he became chairman of stewards. Addressing a national Provincial and Country Clubs conference in Kalgoorlie, Powrie started his talk by saying such an incident would never happen again on any WA track. A swabbing policy for dead or catastrophically injured horses was put in place by Powrie and veterinary steward Peter Symons. It is possible to take both blood and urine samples from such horses. The number of pre and post race swabs rose appreciably on his watch and staff in the swab box increased. He ordered in excess of 2000 swabs from race meetings, in his third year, including picnic meetings at Landor where he once rode in races. At metropolitan meetings there was a doubling of swabs.

In the Stewards Tower at Belmont 2000 with Deputy Brad Lewis.

Something of an innovator Powrie approved the use of stick-on-shoes for gallopers, WA being the first racing jurisdiction to do so. On June 26 1991 The Paul Jordan trained Great Kublai was the first to win with them on. Six months later Bart Cummings won the WA Oaks with hot favourite, India's Dream, wearing 'glue-ons.' Powrie had tried to get approval for all States to have them at an annual stewards conference but was initially rebuffed, although the AJC soon after granted permission in NSW.

Powrie was being 'puffed' in some WA and NSW media circles to take over as the AJC chief stipe but he was not interested in that post, having previously been a steward for a year in NSW before returning to WA in 1988. Instead he was to go much further afield—Dubai in fact. The Emirates Racing Authority's Chief Executive, Les Benton, in August 2001, contacted Powrie with an offer. "I agreed to visit at the beginning of September and resigned from the WATC when I returned on the 9th of September." It was, as he described it, "a traumatic time." While he was away Lou Lewis, the father of his new deputy, Brad Lewis (now chief steward), had been murdered with former CIB chief Don Hancock. A car bomb, planted at Belmont Park racecourse, was detonated in Lathlain Park, as the two friends drove home. Two days after his resignation the terrorist attacks on the USA took place. Some cynics have suggested that trying to enforce rules in Arab countries when wealthy Sheikhs horses are involved would be mission impossible. "Are all colours equal?" was a question Powrie asked before he accepted the position. He was assured that no-one would interfere with racing no matter what colours were carried by a jockey.

Powrie noticed a difference in the Emirates Racing Association. Stewards were chosen from a list of ERA officials. Powrie changed that to have himself officiating, flanked by a team of three or four others. Also the absence of gambling in the UAE had both. While alleviating the problems of gambling coups and other forms of skullduggery it also hindered analysis. An internationalist in outlook, Powrie derived much satisfaction in seeing stewards who worked under him reach also reach senior levels abroad. Ian Paterson, his first deputy in WA went on to be a deputy chief in NSW before moving to Malaysia and then the top job in Macau and Mauritius. Graeme Bennier was another to be chief in Mauritius while Gerard Bush became both Powrie's deputy and then successor in Dubai. Peter Chadwick succeeded in Singapore and Brigadier Abdulrazak Al Shawarzi was an understudy who returned to Oman to control racing there. In NZ, Cameron George took over from him as GM of Integrity, while John Zucal had earlier come back from Macau to take Powrie's place in Perth. "Zooks was a great chairman of stewards and it was a pity he was forced out over a minor car driving accident."

At the helm of Dubai racing for over five years Powrie, as Director of Racing, as well as chief stipe, set up the International Carnival at the behest of His Highness Sheikh Mohammed Bin Rashid Al Maktoum and it has become the scene of the world's richest race. It put the sand kingdom on the map and has attracted owners of some of the best horses in the world to race there. Powrie chaired the first International Stewards Conference in Dubai in January 2007, although by that stage he had moved to a position in New Zealand. It was an attempt to get a more coordinated response to global issues affecting racing.

Matters discussed included international consistency of rules and regulations, moving towards parity in penalties for like offences, consistency in conduct of inquiries (open to press or not), gear and safety equipment, common approach to weight allowances, reciprocity of other jurisdictions penalties. At this conference it was agreed that spurs be banned in flat races as a significant horse welfare issue.

In Kalgoorlie, Powrie had once detected a prominent rider (now a prominent trainer), in the parade ring, with his boot tucked up under the saddlecloth, hiding a sharpened spur. He received a three month suspension. Other items included a complete ban on riders betting (a few countries allowed it), and a universal ban on the use of mobile phones by jockeys on race days. On protests, the principle of the demotion of a perpetrator rather than the promotion of an effected horse was endorsed. Powrie once stared down an irate posse of bookmakers over a protest being upheld on such an issue by reminding them of this rule. In a race at Pinjarra, plunged favourite Top Moss and 40/1 Girly had dead-heated for first with Stately Symbol a short head away, third. The jockey of the third horse protested against Girly causing interference in the final 150m of the race and the placings were amended to read Top Moss as the outright winner; Stately Symbol 2; and Girly 3. The bookies argued, incorrectly and unsuccessfully, that Stately Symbol should have been elevated to equal first with Top Moss.

The next day a leading bookie, Rod 'Milky' Evans, rang Powrie and said that he had consulted five international experts over the matter and only two of them had agreed with his decision. The Powrie riposte was succinct: "That means you have only two experts you can rely on."

The diversity of negotiating skills that a chief steward requires is reflected in Powrie's career. On June 30 1990 a strike was called by barrier attendants three minutes before the first race started. As members of the Municipal Employees Union they objected to a casual worker who refused to join the union. Quick thinking by 'Fin of the Tower' and Turf Club Management saw strappers, jockeys and trainers help out. "Everyone pulled together and peoples safety and the integrity of the meeting was preserved and a steward, Lindsay Wagener, even drove the roller," he said.

From industrial relations to international ones: Having arrived at the same time as the Aga Khan and his daughter at the famous Palace of Versailles, in France, for a dinner meeting of the IFHA (International Federation of Horse Racing Authorities) the then ERA Director of Racing did not let a chance go by to promote the new nine week Dubai International Racing Carnival. With US$21million in prize money, free horse transportation and a US$50,000 leading trainer bonus, Powrie had some enticing marketing benefits to deliver in 2004. "HH General Sheikh Mohammed bin Rashid Al Maktoum was determined to build on the success of the Dubai World Cup and expand it from one meeting to 10." Accordingly, Powrie certainly got a better reception from the Aga Khan to his entreaties than the German delegation did at the Peace Conference, at the same venue, in 1919, after the Great War. Whereas they were humiliated, Powrie got a commitment from the Aga Khan that he would send his horses to run in the UAE. They did. From oil rich Dubai, and then prosperous New Zealand, to India must have been some transition.

He had spent 15 months in NZ as general Manager of Integrity and would serve two years as Racing Advisor to the Bangalore Turf Club. 'Fin of India,' (no relation to Clive), saw Indian racing as a frontier, as he recalled, "with a lot of potential and I wanted to play a crucial role in its development and promotion."

As an innovator Powrie instigated charge sheets and outlined basic rights for those fronting the stewards; undertook a formal training program for young stewards; bought in audio recordings; improved security in the Jockeys room; wrote a plan for a new racetrack; conducted an extensive review of drug policies; devised a new test for trainers; instituted a pre barrier draw promotion for the Kingfisher Derby, complete with Bollywood stars (India's version of the Hollywood set); established a sharp molar registry to prevent the number of horses 'hanging' in races; established speed charts and that adequate weight records of horses kept; and established guidelines on bio security measures to prevent Equine Influenza striking Bangalore and thus preventing severe financial loss to the racing industry. The rest of Indian racing had been crippled by E.I. in 2009. Given that when he arrived he saw a horse that had 'blinkers' cut out from a cardboard box stuck on its head, improvements were clearly needed!

In a serious global industry a sense of humour is important and Powrie possesses a good one, including being able to laugh at his own expense.

"I remember one day at the races Annette Morton, wife of trainer Len Morton, got me to hold her handbag while she led winner Pirate's Reign which had won at triple figure odds. Some less than impressed punter called out to me, "Powrie, get rid of your handbag and get some binoculars."

As a young Steward he was at a two day carnival with his senior, John Mahoney, who warned him against having the soup and curry. The next day Powrie saw Mahoney devouring the same soup and curry with great gusto and demanded to know why he had been 'warned off' the same food on the previous day. "It's a bit like some of those 'Pikey' horses it has improved with the run," was Mahoney's laconic reply.

Perhaps the best effort was when Fin of the Turf Club was trying to educate the newly formed Racing Penalties Appeals Tribunal about the Sport of Kings. During the fact finding mission the chairman of RPAT asked the chairman of stewards about the case of a jockey being given a six week suspension for dropping his hands before the finish of a race at Belmont. Powrie was perplexed at a question asked about what constitutes the finish of a race. After asking a couple of more times the RPAT chairman prompted him by mentioning that in the America's Cup a cannon goes off to signify the finish of a race. Powrie quipped: "You might hear a gunshot in the bookies ring if the 6/4 favourite gets beaten."

RPAT chairman: "When does this happen?"

Hmmmm.

While a cannon might be deemed excessive for use at the finish of a Perth race, apparently the Dubai Carnival has fireworks and parachutists dropping into the course while the girths are being tightened before the World Cup.

Ten years into the job, in his home state, Powrie acknowledged he still could learn. Perc the Punter was a legendary cartoon character in the old Truth newspaper. He still lives in the form of Tom Percy QC who once got former leading jockey, Mark Sestich, off a suspension, on appeal to the RPAT, on Powrie's "short circuiting the enquiry." It was a reminder to him of limitations faced by all stipes. "The best you can hope for as a steward is to go home feeling you have dealt with what you know in the best possible fashion but there will always be things you don't know."

Former long serving US Secretary of Defence, Donald Rumsfeld, would have agreed with Powrie but in a more convoluted fashion. As 'Rummy' famously said in 2002: "There are known knowns. These are things we know that we know. There are known unknowns, that is to say, there are things we know we don't know. But there are also unknown unknowns. There are things we don't know we don't know."

What we know about Fin Powrie is that he gave the chief stipe's position stability of twelve years after a period that saw the office have a revolving door with four chief stewards in the decade before his appointment, in a turbulent era. We also know he made an impact on four continents for improvements to racing. What is a known unknown is just why his services have not been used by RWWA at board level. Powrie has never been interviewed for the RWWA position, despite twice applying for the position.

It would appear that having an experienced, capable person from an integrity background would be high on the list for a board appointment. The former VRC chief steward, Des Gleeson, is on the Tasmanian Racing Board. Perhaps when it comes to such appointments there will always be things we don't know we don't know!

Bloodstock.com.au's new 'Syndications' platform is taking racehorse ownership and trading to another level.

■ Bloodstock.com.au has helped agents, breeders, owners and trainers purchase racehorses across the world since its inception in 2009. The online business was acquired by Inglis; Australia's leading thoroughbred auctioneer, in 2011.

Becoming involved in racehorse ownership is like any investment. Before purchasing a share in a horse, you need to seek trustworthy advice and then partner yourself with a registered syndicator. Both are services Bloodstock.com.au can assist you with.

The immediate benefit any potential horse owner acquires from using Bloodstock.com.au is the impartial advice. Previously when searching for a horse to purchase, you'd be bombarded with a written sales pitch from its syndicator. The advice you can obtain from the Bloodstock.com.au Syndications platform carries no bias. But the 'syndications' tab found on the Bloodstock.com.au website has taken bloodstock service to the next level. It allows individuals to target exactly what they're looking for in a horse. With thousands of horses advertised annually, there is a multitude of different bloodlines and types of thoroughbreds available, and the site allows its consumers to browse the options until one stands out.

For some, it may be a case of searching for a horse at the right price and Bloodstock.com.au has made it easier by segmenting the pricing for every horse that is currently being syndicated.

"This is a great tool. I can't tell you the amount of times I've fallen in love with a horse only to discover that even love has its boundaries in economics," racehorse owner Ben Holden (what horses does he owe? Maybe list a good one... Ben Holden, owner of XX laughed) laughed. "It's really important when you're selecting a horse to work within a budget as there's ongoing costs associated with owning horses. "I also like the 'trainer' tab where you can see all the horse shares available with any trainer across the country." Browsers on Bloodstock.com.au can tailor their search by selecting syndicator, sire, dam, trainer, price and location.

"As a prospective owner you generally have an idea on what you're looking for in a horse before you go to the market," Holden added. "And it's the quirky things that Bloodstock.com.au caters for. I quite often find myself watching the races and see the progeny of an offbeat sire take out a race. I check Bloodstock.com.au for every horse currently up for sale by that sire.

"You never know when you'll see one that takes your fancy and getting into racehorse ownership is so easy through syndication."

And that's where Trainer Connections step in. Trainer Connections offer the industry a comprehensive service for racehorse ownership. Trainer Connections syndicates horses on behalf of trainers. They do not purchase thoroughbreds but rather assist with all the ongoing administration work associated with syndicating horses.

The company's director Craig Tognolini has employed a different model to the standard racehorse syndicator. "We don't buy them. We leave the selection process up to the trainers and then assist in selling the remaining shares," he said.

Cantonese

Twilight-Royale

"This means, for trainers, we're not in competition. In fact, we established Trainer Connections to make life for trainers a lot easier. "We collect the training fees, expenses and take care of all the admin work associated with running a syndicate and for the owners we provide a PDS (Product Disclosure Statement) to protect them."

Tognolini met Warwick Farm horseman Bjorn Baker through Bloodstock.com.au when the pair selected a filly by Testa Rossa from the 2012 Melbourne Premier Yearling Sales. "The filly was purchased for $45,000 was named Twilight Royale. Twilight Royale, has won $487,000 and is one win away from a $2.4million bonus," he said.

"That's because she's won the first two legs of the Inglis Triple Crown as part of the Inglis Race Series. It's a great incentive with the only unfortunate aspect being that the final leg is run during Scone's 2014 Cup Carnival so there's plenty of sleepless night ahead." Tognolini described Baker as "the perfect candidate for our system at Trainer Connections".

"Bjorn is a young talent that's fast establishing himself as a major player in the Sydney training ranks," he said. "Bjorn's stable is currently one of the fastest growing training operations in Sydney. It is imperative that his time is focused on the physical training of his horses rather than being distracted by superfluous tasks.

For Baker, the services provided by Trainer Connections for his business has made "getting on with the job" that much easier.

"Training horses is great but the paperwork can be a bit monotonous and it can make you feel like you're not being as efficient as possible," he said.

"Trainer Connections has significantly increased the time I spend training because of the systems they employ to look after my business. "Dealing with Craig is a pleasure. To be honest, I can't understand why there aren't more services like this offered.

"It's a cost-effective way of focusing on training - Brilliant idea with a killer execution."

But Tognolini remains modest about his company's potential to revolutionise a training office and says Trainer Connections is well complemented by other racing information providers. "We're a piece in the puzzle. Everyone plays their role in taking racing to the public but the more we can modify our products and services, the better the industry will be for it," Tognolini said.

"Our goal is to improve the efficiency of a racing stable.

Strictly Boardroom

This means the trainer will enjoy greater success and as a result his clients/our clients, will too.

"But we co-exist with companies like Bloodstock.com.au, who provide an excellent service for prospective buyers and are paramount to our exposure in the marketplace." You don't have to be a big stable to benefit from the Trainer Connections concept.

"Stables increase and decrease in size and that, along with other factors, can impact on their revenue," Tognolini said. "Sometimes the number of staff required in an office can change in light of this. By outsourcing your admin work you mitigate the difficulties associated with staff changes." The company has stretched its services across to the west where WA trainer Bruce Watkins has teamed up with Trainer Connections. "Bruce is a very good trainer with a strike rate around 20%," Tognolini said.

"But like all trainers, he's looking to enhance his performance and we'd like to think that our business model provides a platform for that to happen."

If you're looking for a share in a horse, wanting to dip your toe into the industry, then Bloodstock.com.au is the best place to start. Here you'll find a diverse range of tried horses and unraced gallopers that could become the next Golden Slipper winner, Derby victor or even a Melbourne Cup hero.

As more licensed syndicators use Bloodstock.com.au to sell shares in horses, the benefit to potential owners will become greater given the larger product base. Already the site provides a huge range of available shares in horses and that will only increase given Bloodstock.com.au's commitment to provide "the ultimate product".

"We work hard to provide the best service we can for potential owners in the industry," Bloodstock.com.au's Marcus Langer said. "The recent introduction of our 'Syndications' service received a warm welcome from industry participants and the public.

"We'll continue to modify, upgrade and introduce more services to benefit our audience. That's what we're here for." Langer added. If you're a trainer that's looking for more hours in the day, then contact Craig Tognolini at Trainer Connections. Together you'll determine the benefits, your stable could receive from the Trainer Connections concept. To find out will only cost you an hour of your time. Stack the odds in your favour; racing's a game of percentages.

Equine Amnionitis and Foetal Loss: The role of caterpillars

■ They are the unlikely culprits behind the deaths of many unborn foals – small, hairy caterpillars ingested by pregnant mares while grazing.

In the thoroughbred racing industry every foal is a potential million-dollar race winner, and many are conceived as the result of stud services valued at hundreds of thousands of dollars.

The loss of a foal represents an enormous real and potential economic loss for breeders.

The impact of hairy caterpillar species such as the processionary caterpillar (Ochrogaster lunifer) was identified in recent years through an investigative process that kicked off in 2004 after a spate of unusual abortions in the Hunter Valley, NSW. Funded in part through the RIRDC horse program, the revealing research into Equine Amnionitis and Foetal Loss (EAFL) has implications for thoroughbred breeding and the Australian horse industry more generally.

“I’m very confident that caterpillar abortions are occurring in all kinds of horses – stock and station horses, little ponies – all along the eastern seaboard and probably in every state in Australia,” says epidemiologist and veterinarian Dr Nigel Perkins, who has worked on EAFL since 2004, partially through his role as research manager for the RIRDC Horse Program.

He explains the unique symptoms of EAFL, which he says represent up to a third of abortions submitted for pathological analysis. “In caterpillar abortions, the infection generally starts inside the foetus and in the umbilical cord and works outwards,” Dr Perkins says.

“In the laboratory, the fact that there were multiple cases all showing the same sorts of changes in the foetus within a period of a month or so, raised the alarm. Subsequently, when we went through 10 years of records, we saw similar cases, but because they were occurring sporadically, they never really raised the alarm. These things have been happening for many years, or possibly forever.”

A number of causes were postulated.

The investigators, led by Dr Judy Caldwell-Smith and Professor Wayne Bryden from the University of Queensland, were particularly drawn to a similar syndrome occurring in the US. Just a few years earlier, Mare Reproductive Loss Syndrome had been found to be caused by a different species of hairy caterpillar, and the pathology of EAFL was similar.

In 2006, the Australian researchers received RIRDC funding to conduct field experiments testing the caterpillar theory. Their work was also supported by the Universities of Sydney, Melbourne and Queensland.

“These caterpillars have tiny spines that have lots of little barbs on them that mean they work their way in and are difficult to pull out,” Dr Perkins says.

“When the mares ingest these spines they can work their way through the gut wall and into many different tissues in the mare’s body.”

It is likely that this gut penetration allows bacteria that are harmless to the mare to travel into the bloodstream and eventually reach the foetus, which cannot mount an immune response.

Some questions are still being investigated, including whether there is an association between an allergic reaction to caterpillar spines and mare abortions. But the identification of caterpillars as a primary cause of EAFL was an important step for industry, allowing it to develop specific control plans to reduce the risk of mare abortions.

Current control measures are based on checking paddocks where pregnant mares will be kept from January onwards, and detecting and removing any caterpillar nests. The research team is now conducting further field research, looking to learn more about the caterpillars in order to continue to improve control options for broodmare owners.

“As we learn more we may fine-tune these measures, but we really think we’re on the right path,” Dr Perkins says.

S Thoroughbred Breeders WA Stallion Tender Scheme

The Stallion Tender Scheme (STS) developed by TBWA, (or WABBA as it was then), was designed for two purposes.

Firstly, it aimed to provide the smaller breeder (who had only one or two mares) the opportunity to access a range of stallions at a reduced price. The people who used the scheme often didn't have the buying power to negotiate reduced service fees for the majority of the stallions offered in WA. Secondly, it was a fund raiser for the Association which provided the much needed revenue to service the industry and membership. While the STS has operated with a degree of success over a number of years, a recent review of the scheme highlighted that while still supported by some stallion and broodmare owners, interest in the scheme had diminished. Feedback was simple and direct

The STS needed to:

- have more stallions;
- provide the same conditions that apply with standard nominations (eg live foal guarantee or free return); and
- provide an incentive for the stallion owner to be involved.

By including the 2013 Stallion Tender Scheme in the TBWA Stallion Promotion Package, the above points are well and truly covered and we are set to have the best array of stallions the scheme has ever had involved – thanks to the generous support of the stallion owners.

This edition of Sunspeed Stallions, which includes the Stallion Tender Scheme will be sent to all breeders who returned a mare in the last breeding season as well as a further database of breeding enthusiasts.

Each stallion available for tender will be highlighted on his page with a logo linking him to the scheme and will be offered with a free return – a huge plus for the breeders.

The scheme will also be promoted through the TBWA website and other communication avenues.

Good luck with your tender. Remember that it must be in before 30 August 2013. If you need any assistance or have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact Amanda at the TBWA office on 9277 9880 or email info@tbwa.net.au

In closing we would once again like to thank stallion owners for supporting the scheme. Whilst you may not place or win a tender this year, please consider all the stallions that appear in Sunspeed Stallions if you are breeding in 2013.
